Support Children Overcoming a Life-Altering Crisis at the Rainbows For All Children Gala Benefit

Fourth Annual Canvases and Corks Gala Features Premier Wine and Art, Dinner and Live Auctions

ITASCA, Ill.—Oct. 18, 2010 – Rainbows For All Children, an international charity that supports children who survived crises, is hosting the “Canvases and Corks” Gala Benefit – their signature fundraising event of the year.

Join the Rainbows Women’s Board at the “Canvases and Corks,” which starts at 5:45 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 6, 2010 at the Renaissance Hotel and Convention Center (1551 North Thoreau Drive, Schaumburg, IL 60173). Rainbows (www.rainbows.org) has supported more than 2.5 million children who are suffering from personal or community tragedies over the past 27 years.

Canvases and Corks will feature fine art, a reception with imported cheeses donated from Cabot Creamery of Vermont, several fine wines that include but are not limited to Silver Oak Cellars, Cakebread Cellars, Terlato, Kelham Vineyards, Grace Family Vineyards, Pedroncelli Winery and Robert Foley Vineyards, a gourmet dinner with selected wine pairings, and dancing to live music from the Backthird Events Band. Throughout the evening, guests can also participate in live and silent auctions, bidding on fine art, wine and luxury experiences.

More than Art and Wine

This event has an important message about helping children through their life-altering crises. Rainbows alumna, Jennifer Gallien, will speak about her experience and uphill battle, along with how Rainbows has helped her.

“The ‘Canvases and Corks’ event supports our mission to provide a healthy path towards emotional healing, and ensures that Rainbows will be able to guide the next generation of kids through life’s storms,” said Suzy Yehl Marta, Founder and President of Rainbows. “I’m so proud of Jennifer for wanting to share her story and challenges with the guests in hopes of inspiring others to share the importance of Rainbows.”
